

In this issue:

- You're Suspended!
- Stand-out with Suspended Seating
- Come See Us at K/BIS
- Installation Tip

Come See Us at K/BIS

Booth C5476

Come by our booth at the Kitchen/Bath Industry Show (K/BIS) in Las Vegas, NV from May 7-10, 2007.

Installation Tip

Adjust Frame to Top Edge of Cabinet

Level the cantilever frames using the 5 carriage bolts. The cantilever frame can be raised up approximately 1" to position the top of the frame with the top edge of the cabinet. (Caution: Make sure there is enough clearance between the top of the cantilever frame and the bottom of the countertop to insert the head assembly into the frame.)

You're Suspended!

Making a Difference...

"If I were stranded on a kitchen island and I could only have one thing, I might choose a suspended seating system by Seating Innovations. While a standard bar stool or island chair might do it for some, I'm taken by SI's adjustable arm and seat stops, the chair return design that brings an empty chair back to a resting position, and the heavy-duty steel components that will hold up to 500 lb. loads (for when I get fat off the appetizers and finger foods). There is one "secret" I should let you in on--the system does not actually hang from the counter top... The system is freestanding and mounts to the floor via a cantilever frame that is usually concealed behind finish paneling and underneath footrests. A suspended seating system makes cleaning the floor a breeze, and will keep the kitchen floor scratch-free and the counter top safe from chair collisions. Pricing can vary widely depending on style, number of chairs, etc., but the company claims costs comparable to standard seating/chairs. They also have work desk and dining table suspended seating solutions, as well. Cool!" (Ben. "You're Suspended!" Online posting. 25 May 2006. BOBVILA.COM, The Ultimate Home Site <<http://www.bobvila.com/OnTheLevel/You-re-Suspended--2330.html>>.)

Stand-out with Suspended Seating

Add this Unique Product to your Next Home/Kitchen

Seating Innovations' snack bar, desk and table seating systems transform a conventional kitchen into a well-organized, distinctive, integrated center of the home. This unique product will help you stand-out with prospective homeowners. Homebuilders and Kitchen/Bath dealers who incorporate suspended seating in their kitchen designs achieve a competitive advantage in the marketplace.