Sitting is Believing

Put a display in your showroom, model or parade home

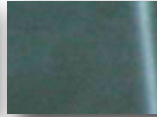

Some things can be appreciated by observing from a distance. Others require some hands-on experience. Suspended seating is one product that is better understood and valued if you experience it. From swinging the chair out to sit down after a long-day's work, to readjusting the chair's position to your desired location for dinner, suspended seating is comfortable and intuitive. And when you are ready to go, just stand and exit the chair and the chair returns to its resting position, thus Seating in the Right Place.™
